Twenty-five years ago, seeing the need to recognize the importance of the contributions of African Americans to the State of South Carolina, the South Carolina General Assembly created the South Carolina African American Heritage Commission.

During the past twenty-five years the Commission has worked with the citizens of South Carolina to raise the awareness of these contributions through:

1. Encouraging the erecting South Carolina Historical Markers
2. Providing education resources for educators
3. Providing workshops, conferences and educational opportunities across the state.
4. Providing Artist-in-Residence for school across the state.

On April 4 and 5, 2019, the South Carolina African Heritage Commission will celebrate twenty-years at its annual “Preserving Our Places in History” awards luncheon on Thursday, April 4, 2019, 1:00 – 3:00 pm and a reception and gala on Friday, April 5, 2019 6:00-10:00 pm at the South Carolina Archives and History Center, 8301 Parklane Road, Columbia, SC.

SC African American Heritage Commission

The movement toward recognizing the importance of preserving this cultural richness led to the passage of a joint resolution of the General Assembly in 1993 that established the South Carolina African American Heritage Council and to its establishment as a commission in 2001 by executive order of Governor Jim Hodges.

The mission of the South Carolina African American Heritage Commission is to identify and promote the preservation of historic sites, structures, buildings, and culture of the African American experience in South Carolina and to assist and enhance the efforts of the South Carolina Department of Archives and History. The 15-member commission includes representatives from all regions of the state.

For more information about the Commission, contact Jannie Harriot, Chairperson, at professionaljmh@aol.com or 843-332-3589.
